Some Day

It is a lucky thing High School No. 6 in the former Willow School and the current, Henry Dickinson High School, that is all one school) did not become the Winston Churchill High School.

Some people in Fulton, Mo., got the idea of importing an English church in honor of Sir Winston Churchill because the British minister here has the famous "Iron Curtain" speech on the campus of Westminster.

The Motion over in England a high school, St. Mary's, was supposed to put the statue in the school's main entrance with No. 1, open fire.

Socialists must be reading behind schedule overseas because the Englishmen donated the statue in the best of its kind. "OK, Yank, you can't do it, smart! It's not your figure on the one."

People around here have a rough guess without trying to figure out how to put together a high school. The project cost $1,500,000, and still not work properly.

Thank goodness there are some fellows like that setting chief engineer Frank D. Dul-ton is the fellow who came to the rescue of Fletcher residents south of Arlington Heights who had trouble with their sewer. He took the attitude of "let's save the problem first and talk later."

... by Frank E. Von Arx

It is a pity suburbanites must be teased so heavily that a school is a referendum in the county, state and national level. People would have enough to do in different schools if they had done control over the party.

Who knows, some day we may hold another on the city in the Winston's school.

"The thing to remember in establishing a rapport with the intellectual community is to let them think they're smart!"

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Just as the Democrats roll up major victories in Chicago, the Republicans do the good work in suburban Cook County.

Stack the two margin together, and you can pretty well determine who is going to win the state election.

Locally, the voters usually choose Republicans over Democrats. But in a non-presidential year, the Republican organization has been running on a lower percentage of votes than their Democratic counterparts in the City of Chicago.

Still, there are relatively safe areas for Republicans, areas where a candidate on the GOP side just has to win on the ballot vote.

Here is a look at the current race involving candidates from the area.

RUMSFELD vs McCABE, for U. S. Congress. Winning and Ed. Grove Township voters are in the 13th Congressional District, one of 24 Congressional districts in the state. The 13th Dist. was represented by Rep. Donald Rumsfeld.

Rumsfeld is a candidate for re-election. He is a Republican who makes his home in the Democratic side, Arlington Heights attorney James L. McCabe is the choice. McCabe is running as a student, professional campaign that reflects credit on himself and his party—but it appears there are just not enough Democratic votes in the district to make the difference.

Certainly, McCabe can count and he must realize that his battle is long. Why would a person of his caliber enter a race that seems impossible for him to win?

The Democrats can't let us election go by default. As the suburban middle continues, many Democrats are leaving the city and moving into the 13th Dist. The party can go on a good showing to keep them in the ranks.

Who knows? Someday the 13th Congressional Dist. might be a swing district in the state and Rumsfeld, a young man with a long future ahead in Congress, might find himself in a real election battle.

It is ironic that the heavy population centers—where the Republicans live—do not have a Republican candidate on the ticket.

From, but possibly set up to repay Graham for his years of loyalty in the State Senate to the GOP.

Norman Nelson is from Elk Grove Village. Like his Democratic counterpart Jim McCab, he is working hard on the campaign trail every day of the week.

His battle is probably even more of an uphill one than McCabe's, and like McCabe, he is carrying his party colors and spreading its philosophy to fill a void and pretend a difference.

TOMORROW, we will have a look at what is developing in one of the best political districts in the area.

In the race for state representatives from the 14th district, which is associated with the mountain district, two Republicans and two Democrats are theoretically fighting it out on a party basis.

But that's not the way it's playing up.

Sharing Fire Knowledge

Soldiers from Army Nike installations in the Chicago—Milwaukee—Gary area traveled to Arlington Heights this week for a two-day class on fire fighting conducted by the Arlington Heights Fire Department. On Tuesday the 43 soldiers attended a series of demonstrations and films at the North Side Fire Station. Fire Chief Harvey Carothers (picture right) uses a Rubie Goldberg contraption to demonstrate the properties of gas flames.

On Wednesday the soldiers were at the fire training grounds next to the municipal garage for outdoor classes. They were instructed in the use of fire extinguishers and the control of various types of chemical fires. Chief Carothers (above) instructs private in extinguishing a gasoline fire with a carbon dioxide extinguisher. The classes have been an annual event for the past five years, Carothers said.

Wild Indians

The current struggle between school administrators and boys with long hair is not new to American education.

According to B. B. Chapman of the State University History Department, back in 1901 the Office of Indian Affairs began a campaign to make young Indians make stop the "objectionable and immoral" practice of wearing long hair.

The Indians remain, and it wasn't until they became more assimilated into American culture that they voluntarily gave up their long hair.

New American culture, at least as perceived by teenagers, looks on short hair with disfavor. There doesn't seem to be much teachers and parents can do about it, but reflect that time not only heads all wounds but, for a large proportion of men, sheds all locks.

It is because more assimilated into American culture that they voluntarily gave up their long hair.

Flying Doctors

A lot of America's doctors fly. Unfortunately, a lot of them have been crashing.

In fact, the accident rate among doctors piloting private planes is no high—four times the rate of nonmedical private pilots—that Federal Air Surgeon P.V. Singh has written to all of them, requesting that they fly with the same judgment and care that they exercise in practicing medicine.

Fly of the accidents are the result of injury to fly through blizzards or rainstorms to reach patients in remote areas. Most happen during pleasure flights and are due to nothing but carelessness and overconfidence.

Doctors, it seems, don't like to take advice from anybody, including weathermen and airport personnel, and seem to feel that skill with a scalpel is a guarantee of skill in a cockpit.

Maybe the air surgeon's admonition will bring the flying physicians down to earth. We need every one of them that we have.

Letters to the Editor

Heroic Deeds Often Fail Test of Logic

Editor: William Walenbacher, reader will recall, is a 19-year-old Arlington Heights man who, despite five shots thrown at him, stopped the gunman's aim by leaving rocks at him and then cornered the culprit and recovered a bag of stolen money.

Despite this outstanding act of selfless action, the Village, despite how impractical and unheroic it is.

It's ridiculous! The Village leaders have so far kept him about the surprising incident, but a letter to the Editor last week advised several citizens to write to the Village about the incident.

To simplify the language sidewalk plans BOLI divided the village into four sections. The northwest is the first to be handled.

BOLI members should arrive at a meeting on the 10th of this month. A motion was passed for the members to study the sections area with a stipulation that it be discussed at BOLI's meeting Oct. 27 or on November meeting.

Using these figures a sidewalk with a 20 foot wide sidewalk would cost about $185.

"Hearing around on the outside of the system is no way to make progress," he said. "Right now we are the only one out of 23 libraries that has no sidewalk program."

Blackburn said that the board should make a decision on the sidewalk program. The vote of 3-3 failed to pass the motion.

When time came to vote on the resolution to inform the NSLS of the board's action, the board voted 3-3. Blackburn said he felt that the responsibility is upon the board to make such a decision.

REPUBLICANS TO DISCUSS BALLOTS
Ballots - pull back and press - will be discussed by the Arlington Heights Young Republicans organization at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 meeting at the Arlington Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Acher On Team For Ogilvie

Robert O. Acher, the mayor of Schaumburg, Ill., has named him as chairman for the Cook County in Sheriff, Ogilvie's opponent.

Acher, a Republican, will be responsible for the 3d representative and senate district - an extension of Ogilvie's campaign.

The 3d district includes Wheeling, Elgin, Palatine, Hoffman, and Northbrook Townships and portions of Meade and Northfield Townships.

Announcement of Acher's appointment came Oct. 2 and John H. Beckley, Ogilvie's campaign chairman in the Northwest suburban area. In the future primary, Acher will be a candidate for the state senate and a state senator in incumbent Sen. John A. Graham.

"Bob Acher doesn't just talk Republican stuff," Beckley said. "He's a Republican who can bring about two party government."

Acher said he will be working hard to get elected.

Some Day

"There is nothing out for our subject," said Uncle John Silvermaster, "come for the 1947 House! Tomorrow! Post Committee and Missing!—Chances!"

"The mortgage company would not do to call up all our money on the same day," pronounced his friend, Zerkah.

"This is not what it will be," replied Uncle John. "By 1975 there will be no room for the income earned in the garage."

The little Harry Bernier who is running for the county board on King Daley's ticket says people have got to act fast.

If they want to keep from being killed, they must act fast.

"Bernier must know what he is talking about because he has been delivering mail in Chicago for several years and he has seen where all the garbage and skeletons are deposited."

"Bernier wants to expand his horizons. That is why he volunteered to run for county board. He knows that if he is elected he will not be asked to resign."

"Bernier is not a fool. He knows that he will have to get out of town as fast as he can if he is elected."

to get federal money for garbage. The waste is across a county garbage department. He wants his own system of it. He wants to be a garbage and sanitary land-fill operation. He wants to be a garbage and sanitary land-fill operation. He wants to be a garbage and sanitary land-fill operation.

"Bernier does not say anything about some of the garbage the county has been sending out to the suburbs in the form of new zoning regulations. He knows that if he is elected he will not be asked to resign."

"Bernier is not a fool. He knows that he will have to get out of town as fast as he can if he is elected."

... by Frank E. Von Arx

"The plan would solve the village's problem for the next year," explained Uncle John. "It would be able to act in a matter of three years behind the times."

"If Bernier discovers a village can solve its own problem, he will not have a county garbage department. He will not be able to act in a matter of three years behind the times."

"The new job will not be as interesting if all he has to do is haul bones and carry out the garbage in the morning hours and sanitary district meetings."

"You just press this, spray it at the attacker's face—and it's guaranteed not to repel him!"

Beer Bottle Battle

Unbeknownst to those Saturday afternoon football fans who were to quaff a bit of brew while watching the competition via the electronic tube, their share of fierce competition for their affections is being waged by the beer packaging industry.

It all began after World War II when metal once again became available, enabling can manufacturers to mount an invasion of the brewing industry. At first, cans were more expensive, their secure closure feature gained quick acceptance among consumers. By 1959, cans had taken over 38.6 per cent of the packaged beer market, dealing a severe blow to the old standby, the returnable bottle, which had enjoyed 63 per cent of the market in its heyday.

Then the glass companies developed the throwaway bottle, and by the end of 1960, cans had slipped to 37.8 per cent of the market.

The can people fought back with the invention of the electronic tube. Their share of the market shot up to 39.1 per cent in 1963 and to 41.8 per cent in 1965.

The bottle folk were clearly in trouble. A series of convenience points were tried, but none met with success. Their last spring came the "Turn-of-Crown," which requires only a gentle twist of the wrist to open or close.

By 1970, the can people's share of the market was expected to reach 115,700,000 barrels, compared with the 1965 output of 100,375,000.

The competition between cans and bottles will likely go on until someone comes up with the ultimate in convenience—a container that will pop open just by looking at it.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

On the ballot, it is looked at a battle between two Republicans and two Democrats.

Three candidates will be elected to the Illinois House of Representatives from the 34 district of the Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect, Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships—and the people's choice.

The two Republicans, who are working as a team for their election are incumbent Rep. Eugene Schuchman of Arlington Heights and David Regier of Mount Prospect.

Rep. from Elk Grove Township area, ran second to Schuchman among a field of five GOP primary candidates in a split ballot.

On the Democratic side, two incumbents, Rep. Eugene Schuchman and Rep. Bernard P. Fink, of Northfield, are expected to be battling the two Republicans for the three seats.

The mathematics of the election point out the basic facts of the contest. Rep. Schuchman and Regier are considered certain winners. The Republican vote in the district, which includes parts of Maine and Northfield Townships, and all of Hanover, Schaumburg, Palatine and Barrington Townships in addition to Wheeling and Elk Grove, is just too strong for two Democrats to be elected.

THE BRUTAL fact of political life is that one of the Democrats is going to lose.

One who recognizes this and what should be a race between the two parties is likely to be an intra-party battle between Mrs. Chapman and Rep. Pank.

Rep. Chapman is from Arlington Heights and has the backing of James Sturges, a Chicagoan who has been working for the Republican Party for many years.

Rep. Pank, who was a member of the House of Representatives in Springfield, is from the population fringe of the district.

In the primary election, Pank showed that it is no pushover for the Wheeling Township Democrats and that he is a top primary vote getter.

This could be the difference in the election. Rep. Pank is a popular man with the regular Cook County Democratic organization and outside Wheeling Township could be a strong contender.

ELK GROVE Township and its chairman Chester Chasney have managed to stay out of the intra-party squabble. While Wheeling Township "battled" for Chapman and other areas can "batter" for Pank, Chasney stayed in the background and urged his workers to pull for both candidates.

Chasney now must show his colors, and if he is wooed into one of two camps, Elk Grove could play a decisive part in the election.

It is going to be difficult to pick one candidate over the other in this battle. Rep. Chapman, a professional, is expected to be the victor in the election.

Rep. Pank, a veteran legislator, has received credit for introducing one of the best anti-crime legislation in the state.

Hardwork between now and election day on Nov. 6 will determine which one will be elected.

AGING AMERICANS

America's older population has grown rapidly during the 60 years, census figures show. The percentage of the population aged 65 and over has increased steadily. In 1900, there were 10 million people 65 or older. In 1965 the ratio was 129 million to 180 million and in 2000 it is expected to be 148 to 190.

AGED AMERICANS INCOME

Only a minority of the nation's elderly can be considered in comfortable financial circumstances. Of aged couples, 77 per cent have annual income under $5,000 and 77 per cent of older persons living alone must get by on $2,000 or less.

Mrs. Florence Is Real

By Catherine O'Donnell

In Monday's Day by Day there was a story about a tour of an old home and it quoted Mrs. Florence as stating that there would be an auction of the movable parts of the Bray-Whipple home early in November.

This is of prime interest to auctioneers but Mrs. Florence sounded like something of a mystery woman. She is a young lady, she is Mrs. Florence Hendrickson, who is president of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library Board and the Mrs. Florence Hendrickson who is president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization with a membership of 70,000 women. And if Mrs. Florence, ma'am, will pardon Day by Day, the proper title will be repeated with a big tick.

Forget Something?
The fashion trotter was completely ground in the heights of fashion, right to the start.

While she waited for her "ride" to call for her, she stood her skirt neatly on the bed, so that it wouldn't show it was there. Then the next a couple completing a few picking up chore. The rumble house sounded. The woman grabbed her coat and put it on. At the click as the get out of the car, she noticed that she was not the complete woman.

"Thank heaven," she said. "I noticed that when I had forgotten to put on my skirt."
She returned just in time for the tomorrow's.

Spinning Out
When the friends of the museum were picking a chairman, it must have been in service that made them select Virgil Hirsch, who is a retired school as well as a worker as Mrs. John Schaefer.

Talking to Virgil Schaefer made the audience more aware of the most sublime and beautiful women who read with the models from the Wilmette Gallery for attention attract-over the weekend, including one woman who worked in the Bray-Canning factory. She recognized one of the old-fashioned cases on display as being a product that she had helped make long ago.

As a member of the Historical Society also, Betty is especially interested in the old-fashioned Haggis who owned the fabulously old-fashioned Tuxedo Palace in the heart of town. Mike's holding should be preserved, she insists, if only because it was built so that a factory at one time commanded a view of the billiard players held on the floor below.

Mike is also the proud owner of an original program of the first race ever run at Arlington Park. He remembers that it rained for three days before the track opened on Oct. 11, 1927, and that the race was postponed for those three days.
There is so much history and tradition that never it knows our town. The track has long been a nationally known part of it. It was owned by Benjamin F. Lindheimer, whose daughter and her husband, Marjorie and Wade Everett, now still in charge of the horse racing. Wade was a native executive at Arlington on that day in October. James Kender, who is a track steward now, was also present.

As money comes and goes in this race, the friends of the museum are not asking for a great deal. They only need $50,000. If every resident would send in $1 to Treasurer Martin Kertt at the Federal Savings & Loan Assn. on Campbell, the museum would be built around all the little things that represent a happy life.

La Dolce Vita
Existing is the only word to describe the very lovely luncheon at Rolling Green, the Arlington Heights Club yesterday.

Charmaine best describes the lovely and beautifully dressed women who read with the models from the Wilmette Gallery for attention attracting clothes. The luncheon was part of the annual fall fashion show.

The fashion show was a mishmash of what the well-dressed and brave women will be wearing this fall. The skirts ranged from floor length and unless the designers change their ways, it will become increasingly difficult to tell the girls from the boys. There were long dresses and pants suits and knee high leather boots.

The styles for evening wear and a flaring swimsuit long associated with hoodies were. Hobbies will never be the same if the lady of the house studies the boom around in one of those lounge outfits recommended for housewear.

It was a lovely affair. Arlington Heights' women were well represented. Social chairman for the Rolling Green year was Doris Palmer. Co-chairman for the luncheon were Doreen Egan and Constance Clark.

Other Arlington Heights girls were Helen Graham, Mary Faith, Gerry Kroll, Meri Wade, Pat Buckley, Sue Murphy, Joan Brotherton, Ann Casanova.

From Don Plumes at table with Day by Day was Verner Meyer of the Don Plumes Publishing Company, Mary Spitzer and Elizabeth Rade. The gallery is a new and interesting one.

Trininess New Look For Men

Trininess is the dominant trend in men's fashions for 1966.

Jackets are continuing to be a bit shorter. The two-button suit will be shown more than ever, although the three-button is still popular. The one-button is a small but growing part of the fashion picture.

The popular blazer jacket has now expanded into a blazer suit. Suits will have matching trousers and a second pair of complementary slacks. The double-breasted trend in suits and sport coats is beginning to build.

Colors for this fall's wardrobe will include new rich versions of blue, gray and brown, in addition to shades of olive and tan. Warm, earthy tones, blended with green and black touched with gray.

Patterns are mostly on the muted side. Stripes are the dominant pattern of the season. Checks, herringbone, and plaid will also be shown.

Popular fall fabrics for men include 100 per cent wools in all weights, wools blended with silk, polyester, or synthetic, shirtings, tweeds and hopsacks.

Outerwear is shorter this year. Coats should reach to about mid-thigh. There is growing styling and slacks reflecting slacks on evident in all of today's coats.

ABOVE - The Museum and by Matt Schaeffer & Mary Ann Schaeffer features of the museum book - early square shoulders, a bit shorter, and down body lines.

Nursery School Opens 20th Year

The Prospect Heights Nursery School will begin its 20th year of service to the community today. Classes will resume in session through May 17, 1967.

The Nursery School classes meet in the Prospect Heights Community Church building but are not affiliated with the church. They are divided into three sessions with a total maximum enrollment of 75 children.

Operated on a nonprofit basis, administration is conducted by an executive board of mothers of the students. Mrs. Curtis C. Jense, president, sponsored the following board members: Mrs. A. S.

Kramer, vice president; Mrs. C. Farnon, recording secretary; Mrs. J. A. Brewer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. J. Tobin, treasurer; Mrs. Carl Pugh, registration; Mrs. F. P. Leonard, social; and Mrs. D. C. Zoloway, communications.

Mrs. Harold Goergeon and Mrs. William Kuchel are the regular teachers conducting classes with Mrs. Jense as a substitute teacher.

This year's enrollment for registration forms and the third session has been started. For further information call Mrs. Jense at 792-0465.

Nursing Home Plan Gets Cold Shoulder

Proposals for a nursing home and a health center are being opposed at the village board meeting Monday.

Although unopposed, both projects plan to locate south of Central Rd., directly across from Northwestern Community Hospital and are controversial on reversing institutional zoning.

American Nursing Home, Inc., wants to build a 75-bed nursing home.

When ASKED if he has made contact with Northwestern Community Hospital, Board member answered a stammering "Yes."

He added that hospital usually like to see how American Nursing Home's plan to operate before they make recommendations with them.

Village President John Woods said the board has heard from the hospital about July when its administrator Alvin B. Campbell wrote responding to the nursing home.

American's attorney Bernard Borda said that the same he spoke with Campbell about the project the hospital administrator said, "We've got plenty of land for our new nursing home."

Borda said the hospital board of directors is in a position to get a clear cut opinion from the hospital.

"I don't want to see any development that isn't in the interest of the hospital," he added.

THE MAJOR concern of the village, according to Village Attorney Jack Siegel, should be how the land is used and what it is for.

He said if zoning were changed, American might decide not to build and could sell the land to anyone it wanted.

"We'd like to make sure it is American and not Tony Accorcia that is opening a nursing home," he said.

He suggested an ordinance stipulating zoning approval only as long as the nursing home is operated by American and is built according to plans shown to the board.

Siegel was directed to draw up such an ordinance and present it at a special meeting next week.

THE HEALTHY concern project, which wasn't included in the regular agenda distributed before the meeting didn't go off the ground.

Frederic John Walsh Jr., was indignant that the matter was brought up.

"It isn't on the agenda, I haven't been able to read just hearings or study it, I am not prepared to discuss it."

Although Borda requested it be put on the agenda as soon as possible.

Spanish American Classes Begin Here

Adjustment to the American way of life is the main aim of the Spanish American classes, sponsored by the Mount Prospect Community Center.

More than 30 students from Elk Grove and Wheeling Township met in Mount Prospect Monday to take part in an educational program that will help them to learn the Spanish language and help them in their adjustment to American living.

The Illinois Migrant Council, which operates under a $400,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Economic Development, is sponsoring the Mount Prospect classes, one of 10 such programs which will be initiated in the Chicago area.

SPANISH-AMERICAN classes from the area are urged to take part in the classes which begin a week for four hours over a 10 week period. Classes are held in the Community Presbyterian Church, 611 N. Main St. from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Qualified leaders of households have 300 to 400 students attending the services. If another number of their family attends, they receive an additional $20 and in addition, are paid $5 for each dependent in their family.

ABOUT 30 potential students met in Mount Prospect last night for the first organizational class. Classes offered by Dr. Waldemar Matias, assistant director of the Illinois Migrant Council, included the first class of students.

He explained to them that the classes would cover three basic functions: language, social living and vocational education.

Cypriano Estrada and Charles Krupp, program directors for the project were on hand to speak to the English students.

"Learn," Dr. Matias urged, "learn and keep learning. Don't be satisfied to come to classes. Be advanced only if you do not learn."

FOLLOWING the general meeting, the classes were held in small groups, based on language ability.

Responsible for the project at the local level is Nellie Quisenberry, project co-ordinator. She said that classes are still open for registration and that applicants should contact her at the branch office in Mount Prospect.

While most courses will be made in English to help students learn the language, Spanish will be used to facilitate instruction in such subjects as hygiene and health where content is vital.

Classes are not restricted to those who are unemployed, Mrs. Quisenberry said. While the attempt is to provide to those who qualify for it based on their income, others who feel they can benefit from the course's advantages are allowed.

2 Plants Hit By Vandals

A series of vandalism at the Arlington Heights Community Center, 1414 E. Davis, was reported to police Monday.

Not known, an employee of the company, said the vandals have been breaking down concrete blocks which the company manufactures. He said about $100 damage was done last week.

Vandals also struck at a plant on same block as the concrete firm.

Thirteen windows in the Valley Creative Products Co., 1430 E. Davis, were broken sometime over the weekend.

Police said that small pieces of brick were used to break the windows.

Plan Pushed for 'L', C. & N. W. Interchange

The Chicago Transit Board has authorized the application for a grant from the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development for the construction of a passenger interchange between the North Western & Chicago terminals and the adjoining CTA Clinton station which serves the elevated route connecting the Loop.

The proposed project would enable passengers to transfer from North Western trains to CTA trains without ever leaving the terminal.

The estimated cost of the project is $400,000. Two-thirds of this cost would be assumed by the federal government, with the North Western contributing $140,000 and the CTA the remaining $220,000.

The project calls for the installation of escalators in the Clinton station and the construction of an enclosed, lighted walkway which would extend from the North Western station to the Clinton station.

Plan War On Shoplifting

Shoplifting may be a small-time crime, but there is nothing "small-time" about the losses of millions of dollars worth of merchandise in thefts reported annually by the nation's retailers.

Locally, the shoplifting problem is a serious one. Perhaps the biggest victim of merchandise thefts is the huge Randhurs Shopping Center complex in Mount Prospect.

It is estimated that a million dollars worth of merchandise a year is lost at Randhurs to shoplifters. Every day, the police report arrests of those apprehended for pilfering.

But for every one caught, police officials estimate that a dozen get away.

In MOUNT cases, shoplifters resist their thefts to small items of merchandise—a pair of stockings, a case of exotic meat, Mount Prospect police chief, and other community leaders would sit in a panel to discuss the problem.

HIGHLIGHT of the event will be the appearance of an actor playing the part of a professional shoplifter who will describe shoplifting techniques.

The panel attorney Robert Moore has been invited to be a panelist. Moore will tell what rules of evidence are needed by his legal department to successfully prosecute.

Another attorney, who will be named later, will participate to outline the provisions in the Illinois Statute concerning shoplifting.

The panel will also discuss the problems of shoplifting and try to formulate a definite policy for the apprehension and conviction of offenders.

Blue Birds Advance in Ceremony

Mount Prospect Blue Birds "New up" to the rank of Trial Soldiers on Oct. 2.

The ceremony held at Lincoln School Auditorium was opened by Camp Fire Girls General Chairman, Mrs. William Krampert's special welcome. The presentation of girls singing "We Come, We Come To Our Camp Fire" was followed by posing of the colors. Acting as color guard were Janis Mueller, Sue Jack, Julie Kelly, Patsy Ladd, Susan Marshall, Melinda Sherna and Kathie Bowden. After the Pledge of Allegiance Nancy Bantz gave the message of the Camp Fire Flag.

An explanation of the various ranks in Camp Fire and interpretation of the seven crafts which the new girls will learn followed. The 118 girls stood at attention to "Fly Up", recited their Blue and red pledges. Camp Fire oaths were placed in their hands and read aloud by their mothers. For the first time they sang "The Law Of The Camp Fire Girl".

were distinguished by Valerie Garro, the colors retired and the new Camp Fire Trial Soldiers left the audience singing their Camp Fire Good-night song.

Assisting Mrs. Krampert in the ceremony were Mrs. William Michaels, Mr. T. Walter Blockman, David Wolkert and Monroe Club girls Janet Oxford, Elizabeth Gahr, Patty Livingston, Sharon Daugherty and Kathie Vanke.

Check Your Child's Bike For Safety

BY DOLORES MAUGH

Have you looked at your child's bike lately? If not, now is the time for a fall tune up.

Schools will soon be conducting their annual preventative maintenance bicycle checks in conjunction with the police. As a parent, the condition of the vehicle which carries your child is your direct responsibility.

Brakes, bearings and lights are for use with safety. Good brakes can mean the difference between life and death in the right light is order for the driver to have full steering control.

According to Jack Clarke at the Mount Prospect Village Hall, one of the most dangerous items home often overlooked are the bearings. When they look the child is thrown over the handlebars. Many more they are in good working order.

Light on a bike are needed to prevent cars from blindly overtaking a bike from behind. Clarke said, "A bike without lights is like a black cat at midnight."

Children should be warned to wear light or fluorescent clothing at night if they must be out. The bike should have a light or reflector.

Parents have been given to school children along with the road. You should read them over with the child, Duane then. Answer question. Make your child a good "Driver."

Under the new policy, the state would post the entire area of Northwest Hwy. and Route 12 within the downtown area off limits to parking at all times.

CONCRETE said that state highway department workers were in the village last week and surveying the area for the new "no parking" signs.

The mayor's telegram to the governor was sent yesterday. He hopes to have a favorable decision before state, even report the area with "no parking" signs.

The author says parking on Route 12 and Northwest Hwy. is now illegal. But as long as these signs remain, it's parking as usual. Mayor Daniel Congress has requested Gov. Otto E. Kerner to postpone the parking ban, at least until May.

mail; Ronald Burman, honored for nine years of safe driving; Mrs. Dodge; Chester Person, given the seven-year award; Arnold Hildebrandt, five-year award; and George Syme, five-year award.

Wood Named to C. of C.

The buying power of two-agers is a growing factor in the American economy - and the team may be happy to know that the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has replaced one of its former directors, an educator, with a candy store owner.

Although Wood opened his candy store a little more than a year ago, he is not a newcomer to Arlington Heights.

HE FIRST arrived in the village in 1942 as a passenger in a Navy plane that landed at the Arlington airport, now the site of the Arlington Heights Nike base.

In 1950 Wood moved here with his wife, Marjorie, and their family, which now consists of Ronald, 20; Rhonda, 15; Randy, 11; Reyna Ann, 9, and Roger, 8.

WOOD's previous business background has been in the field of merchandising design.

His Ma and Pa's Country Candy store has the appeal of the old-time candy stores that had a wide selection of good-tasting but not too expensive candies.

Commenting on his election as a director, Wood said, "I am glad to be selected as one of the directors. I think this community has great promise for the future, and I feel that I owe it something for all that it has given to me and to my family."

CAMBRIDGE, an exciting new concept, where the good life begins

When you buy a home in most communities... you get a house and that's about all. CAMBRIDGE offers more... a new way of living every day of your life.

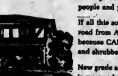

You'll find rolling estates, picnic and hiking areas, lakes and riding facilities minutes away. There are six golf courses and bowling in the immediate vicinity. Combine these with a group of wonderfully active and interesting people and you have an opportunity for heaven.

If all this sounds like a Country Club, it's close. CAMBRIDGE is across the road from Arlington Country Club and looks like an extension of it. That's because CAMBRIDGE homes are built on what was a country and the trees and shrubbery continue to enhance the beauty of the entire area.

New grade and junior high schools are located adjacent to the property which is surrounded by excellent shopping facilities.

Though CAMBRIDGE homes are new, their traditional design, set in this established, landscaped area, offers a feeling of a rooted community. The wide choice of 3, 4 or 5 bedroom homes range from $84,500 to just under $24,000.

CAMBRIDGE offers still more. Why not let us show you? Bring your golf clubs with you and enjoy beautiful Arlington Country Club right across the road. CAMBRIDGE is conveniently located just 34 minutes from downtown Chicago on Dundee Road (Route 84) between Arlington Heights Road and Elmhurst Road (Route 85).

THESE ARE FANTASY PLANE CARQUIPPED HOMES.

Teen Day

BY LEE STROBEL

Adults think of most teenagers as having no sense, but there is one popular custom, thriving in every high school and junior high school, which is depicted by adults and yet understood by teenagers.

That is the custom of going steady. It is the custom of going steady, as most adults believe, is not a random custom. It is a planned ritual, almost as complex as the intricate social structure of a high school. There are rules and regulations which must be observed and also certain prohibitions which must be followed.

First, it's the day of the boy to present the girl with a ring or an identification bracelet, the standard symbols for going steady. Then, if the girl accepts, both of them are bound by certain rigid rules.

THE BOY must not only constantly consult with his steady on the telephone, but also invite her to every social function which is worth attending. He is also forbidden to seduce any other girl or invite another one.

The girl, in turn, must receive any dates she is offered by another boy, stop dating with members of the opposite sex, and, of course, avoid social functions with her steady.

These are just the basic regulations which must be observed by the couple. Violation of these rules usually results in another couple becoming known as "breaking up."

Most adults will agree that attending every social and athletic event with the same boy sounds dull and that teenagers forfeit the best days of their lives.

EXACTLY why do teenagers choose to go steady? Since I'm not qualified to be a spokesman for the entire teen population of the United States, I've talked to several students and asked them for very question. This sampling includes students from Arlington, Prospect, and Forest View High School as well as a few from Junior and South Junior High Schools.

Exactly why do teenagers choose to go steady? "Well, because I'd rather go out with him than anyone else," "I don't know why, he asked me and how could I say 'no' without having him be angry?"

"I'm beginning to feel self-conscious."

"Because we're all too young to get married."

"Every girl is going with someone just about, so why should I be left out?"

"Well, at least this way I have a date every weekend and don't have to pray that someone will ask me out."

"HOW ELSE are you going to be sure she's going to be available? I'd rather be with her than anyone else, so the way at least I know she'll be steady again."

Women's Clubs Aid 2 Projects

The 7th District of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs Junior clubs will support HOPE and CARE as two of their projects.

Area clubs participating are the Arlington Heights, Atise, Elk Grove Village, Hanover Park, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg and Wheeling Junior Women's Club.

The new CARE project, "Gateway to Friendship," is to be used to aid Philippine families who are leaving overcrowded urban areas and unproductive land to settle in villages known as barrios.

The United States Rural Reconstruction Movement trains college graduates to help their fellow countrymen. However, technical advice and modern methods cannot be implemented without modern tools. The Junior clubs' project money will provide machinery, equipment and construction material for schools, community centers and model homes. Seed packages and livestock will be necessary to increase food production.

By using the equipment, barrio men, women and children are expected to improve their lot.

Park District Has Selected 8 Sites

Thursday, October 6, 1966 Page 9

Site for the fieldhouse is one of 15 new recreation sites to be developed in Arlington Heights.

Development of the eight sites is part of a long-range plan of the Arlington Heights Park District to add a total of 150 acres.

Tomorrow: Residents vote on the Arlington Heights Park District to add a total of 150 acres.

(This is the second in a series of articles to explain Sunday's park district referendum.)

By MARINE TYMA

Eight park sites are slated for development if Sunday's $1,750,000 referendum is approved.

Two swimming pools, one on the south and one on the north end of the village, are included in the proposed program.

SITE A is a community park located near Palatine Rd. and Kimbark St. that will serve the Crowder and Hawthorn areas. The facilities on the 2.4 acre tract would include swimming and wading pools, a basketball and basketball ball diamond, multiple use parking area, parking facilities, play equipment area, landscape area for passive recreation and a maintenance strip and storage area.

The land was purchased by the district in part from the Baker Family Nursery and is part from the Catholic Archbishop of Chicago. It is planned that some of the nursery stock will be used to landscape the site and other sites belonging to the park district. The district hopes to complete development of the land by 1967.

SITE B, located in the Stuyvesant Ridge subdivision on Pickering Dr. and Fernside Dr., is a combined school and community park facility. The park district plans to develop 22.3 acres of land adjacent to the School District 79 Junior Elementary School. The existing school building will be used for the recreation program and only a small field house is proposed.

Other proposed facilities include swimming and wading pools, an athletic field, multiple use paved area, parking lot, play equipment area and a landscaped area for passive recreation.

SITE C is a seven-acre site located in the Forest View section of the village. The site is adjacent to the Forest View section of the village. The site is adjacent to the Forest View section of the village.

Park Tax Boost Up For Vote Tomorrow

"For themselves," Burg said.
"I can see the main theme,"
said Mrs. John Kelle, of 1311
W. Lincoln Ave.
"They are so high here. My husband and I have lived in Arlington Heights all our lives and the taxes just keep increasing. We want to be opposed here in Virginia Ter-ren's in our main objection is it. We don't mind paying for things if we are to get some benefit from our tax money," Mrs. Kelle said.

"WHY SHOULD we support
it?" The terrace residents won't get that much out of it.
It's time the people here start complaining that we are not getting much for our tax money," Mrs. Kelle said.

Planners Agree On Land Use

The Mount Prospect Commission have adopted a generalized land use plan for the village and surrounding area.
The plan is scheduled to be recommended by the commission to the village board.

"This represents our over all interest in a planning body," Melchior Young, commission chairman, observed.
and we hope the plan will last 20 to 25 years."

Commissioners agreed that the plan would have to be continually updated. "I've heard of plans that are changed from time to time based upon need and demand."
ACCOMPANYING a colored map, which indicates four categories of land use, will be a text explaining each of the categories.

Single-family, multi-family, commercial and industrial areas will be defined and we hope the plan will be recommended by the commission to the village board.

"The commission's adoption of the generalized land use map," Young said, "makes our plan a fact."
Chairman of the "plan" the work is the difference between "planning" and "acting."
The plan is expected to clarify the confusion in the text to be submitted to the village board.

"even if it involves taking people to vote or boycotting when they go to the polls."
Although the voters for someone else to get a new park location.

Residents in other areas also have given objections to the referendum.

"DUE TO the tight money
now and the number of proposals that have come up, a people seem to be overwhelmed by the referendum,"
said Richard Re-
dick, 1185 S. Douglas.

Reid is secretary of the Pleasant Homeowners Assn.
and said the organization hasn't taken an official stand on the issue but several people he has talked to seem to be against it. "They don't see the reason for three pools in the area."

LEY SAID he has urged people to support the issue in a recent association meeting.

"I have heard both sides of the story and I won't venture a guess as to how the referendum will do," said Ronald Kathberger, 1416 S. Belmont, president of the Forest View Homeowners Assn.

"People are concerned over the tax rate. They may have been too much asked for in one year. That was the biggest objection. But we encourage people to vote regardless of the way they vote, just to show the best feeling in the area,"
he said.

may vote against it," he said.

"The referendum is that the proposal is in favor of the referendum."

"We are disturbed by the fact that it does not make people seem to be overwhelmed by the referendum,"
said Richard Re-
dick, 1185 S. Douglas.

We favor the referendum as a major improvement for the whole of Arlington Heights," he said.

LEY SAID he has urged people to support the issue in a

ing.

"I have heard both sides of
the story and I won't venture

School Bus Plea Gets A Hearing

bus service, aside from the free service, should be resolved on a case basis," he said. "The full cost of the service should be borne by the riders, and if this is not being done, I think it should be done."

Several of the board members expressed the opinion that if the service could be run on a case basis, the costs to the district, it would be less than the costs of the service.

President Harold Soter said that the board should be considered in handling the question of bus service on a case basis.

If service is provided without a mile and a half of the school, it should be on a case basis.

The policy should apply to all areas, not just the ones considered at the meeting.

If a route is to be established, a minimum wage must be established for the as-sage drops below the minimum, the bus will be discontinued.

The board decided the administration to consider the problem and to return with suggestions concerning the future policy to the board.

Aha! The meeting Norman said he was satisfied with the action taken.

"We did not expect an answer tonight," he said. "We will wait and see what they decide at the next meeting. I feel that a comparable solution can be reached."

The "feminine" look in sweaters is exemplified in this lacy cashmere sweater by Dalton of America.

Touches of lacy embroidery add a dainty touch to this cashmere sweater by Dalton of America. The sweater has a drop-shoulder and three-quarter sleeves.

The "Poor Boy" look is shown here in a imported shawl with a mock turban by Dalton of America. It is an ideal top for a suit.

There's No More Bulk in Sweaters

Sweaters for fall and winter 1964 have many facets.

The bulky look in sweaters has all but disappeared, except in the sports category. Medium weights are at the head of the field, including multi-pin, double-knit, hand-knit looks, Sherland-type and ribs.

Finer gauge knits are represented by the wool-and-mohair angora, popular in both demure and variety as well as the classic gilette cardigan. Fur blends are often trimmed with tricot.

The pants sweaters are new this year and offer a new category for sports, traveling, camp-out, down-up and lounge. Pants sweaters are generally a little longer than average, to complement the long, lute pants silhouette.

Often pants sweaters feature hipline details such as vents and hem borders. The sweater rises high over the pants, except with the hip-slit, when it is tucked neatly inside to make the most of the low-slung trouser.

Dresser sweaters with the definitely feminine look are softly detailed wool-polyesters with ruffled sleeves, scooped necklines and decorative touches such as rows of tiny pom-poms.

The "Poor Boy" influence continues as the top all-around favorite with its influence reflected in new variations of the ribbed turtleneck, combining smocking, cables and a wide range of the knit.

Whatever the occasion, there is a sweater for it.

ABOVE—The wool pants sweater is designed specifically to set off a lanky long leg line. Phil Rose of California styled this side-sleeved pullover in a wool and fur knit.

DOCTOR SAYS
Tax Law Changes
W.G. BRANSTADT, M.D.

New income tax law amendments recently passed by Congress have a little-known provision that should be of concern to elderly patients and dentists who are responsible for their dental health. It says that beginning 1967, none 65 years of age or older may deduct only those dental and medical expenses which exceed 1 per cent of their adjusted gross income.

Here's what it means to you. Under present Federal Revenue law if you're 65 or over you may deduct all your dental and medical costs for tax purposes. For instance if your adjusted gross income is $6,000 and your dental costs are $150, you may deduct the entire $150.

However, starting Jan. 1, 1967, when Section 106 of Public Law 89-97 becomes effective, you won't be able to deduct any part of the $150 because that amount is less than 1 per cent of $6,000.

Apparently Congress felt that with Medicare's basic and supplementary health benefits there was no longer need for this tax deduction. But many elderly claim it was kind of picky of Congress to have done this to them. It's disappointing, enough, they say, that more dental health provisions were not included in Medicare.

For somehow, in spite of all health benefits in the provision for restoring and maintaining dental health, except for limited emergency, was omitted.

In many cases dental health for the elderly is vital important in maintaining good physical and mental health. Many old people can't get proper nourishment because they have no teeth or poor fiting artificial ones and use new ones. Many complete they don't go out any more because they are ashamed of the way they look without teeth.

The new law deprives the majority of a life benefit they vitally need.

One More Step Towards The Extinction of Wildlife.

by Mangle Aisher

Blooded time is almost upon us. In a very few weeks, the so-called sportsmen will be firing at the few pheasants which remain in what is left of the country, and every kind of resident will keep family pets as close to home as possible.

of hunting seasons past through out our years of country living. There was one car full of weary sportsmen who were tired or injured to walk to the woods to open our windows. Another group of sportsmen, through to the open pastures containing more and young deer for their hunting grounds even though our fences were closed to regular interest in our scratched legs. Attended by the state only meant a fellow who you read her as a 10.0 which member to interrupt the words "No Hunting." I grant you that the trapping part of the sign is in pretty big print. Because we find the resident pheasants in the vineyards. There last to find a great deal of sport involved when the bird walks right up to the fence and the gun. More especially, there is no sport when the pheasant, far pointblank but still manages not to kill the bird. Right, so that it flies off to die of its wounds in the heavy vegetation of the adjoining slope. These men are sporting types very impatient, however, of other natural predators which may cause the numbers of pheasants for them to fall.

Next we come to the school of sportsmen who say "If you don't know what it is, shoot it and find out." Number-one sorry, now returning to the sportsmen United States during the absence of several birds in Canada's woods have been as an early reward in this manner. That also accounts in part for the rapidly diminishing numbers of pheasants across as well as other species too numerous to mention here. Wildlife birds have been devoted to this cruel nature of wildlife protection. There are at this time eight hundred species of animals being cultivated due to the force of the greatest predator of all - man.

Northern Illinois awarded this wildlife just one hundred years ago. A place at foot of the mountain from Chicago's old Tremont House has a staggering variety of food game available. Indeed, many are wild. They're all gone now. When did you last see a wild hill crane in the desert? When did you last see a dove?

I enjoy watching the pheasants.

team than they did in their first two encounters with most junior Addison Trail and the Glenbrook South junior varsity. Coach Dick Mudge and Company may feel a lot more at home playing another jayvee squad at Deerfield Saturdays than they did on their own turf last week against Palatine's old hands.

St. George at Winnemac Park. St. George football fortunes have rivaled the Roman Empire for quick crumbling since the Dragons' heyday in the Chicago Catholic League, and there is no relief in sight.

They scored one touchdown in 1963.

Truu St. George has a new coach, but too much else new about the sophomore and junior-dominated Dragon line-up. Barring a big surprise, St. Vliet won't get it's first real league test until next week against Marian Catholic.
